First Game Is One-Sided, but Second a Hard Struggle for Ten Innings.

LORD GETS INTO TROUBLE

Put Out of Game for Rough Action-Plenty of Highlander Errors and of Chicago Pitchers.

Melancholy was the minute when Earl Gardner came to bat in the tenth inning of the second game on the hilltop yesterday afternoon. There were two out, runners on second and third, and the Yankees one run behind. Earl made a vicious welt at the ball, but Tannehill, the Chicago shortstop, knocked it down, and with a brilliant throw to Collins at first ended the game, with a second victory for the White Sox by a score of 8 to 7. It was a heartbreaking finish of a thrilling game. and a hard one to lose. The first encounter of the double header was won also by the White Sox, by a score of 10 to 2, and the Yankees dropped to fourth place in the "Ping" Bodie, the Pacific Coast fence breaker, was the man of the hour, and put the visitors on the road to victory in the second game. After beating out a hit to Johnson in starting the tenth Callahan did a clever bit of base running by going to third base when McIntyre sacrificed Bodie's vicious drive to centre brought him home with the run which broke the tle but for good measure the Sox added two more, fortunately for them, on a double by Tannehill and Payne's hit through Knight.

The Yankees made a spirited stand even then, and would have tied the score had the crowd in right field not made ground walked as a starter, and advanced a peg third straight game from the Detroit on Sweeney's cut. Daniels, batting for Tigers. The score was 11 to 3. Fisher, went out, Tannehill to Zeider, Knight scoring. Caldwell singled to centre, ball past McIntyre, in right field, for a Lesgue race. The first contest degenerated into a farce by the loose fielding of the Yankees. Five Pitcher of the Boston Red Sox errors in all were made, and "Big Jim" Vaughn was hit at will by the White Sox, thirteen safeties netting ten runs. "Big pitched the last five frames of the fourteen team winning the first game easily by a singled. ALLOWS ONLY FOUR HITS

Giants Hammer Steele and Golden Freely at Timely Intervals.

St. Louis, July 29.-Revenge, ample and sweet, was the Giants' portion in the game with St. Louis to-day, for they overwhelmed the Cardinals under an avalanche of hits and runs and won by the score of 8 to 0. Not the least pleasing feature of the New York victory was the splendid pitching of Marquard, who did a great seal to establish further his reputation. Four scattered hits were all St. Louis ould gather from his efficient work on the nound, which was all the more commendable inasmuch as he struck out nine of the Cardinais. Not once was the home team in position to score. With the Giants, however, it was a different story, for they were awake to nearly all their opportunities, and when a hit meant a run the hit was forthcoming. Things did not begin any too smoothly, but after a bad first inning they settled down and by the time the fourth period came around they were ready for any thing and everything. They showed their complete mastery of the situation by hammering Steele so viciously that he was forced to retire, and they did just as much damage to the best pitching that Golden and Woodburn could show. In all, the Giants played a game of the sort that wins connants and entirely different from the luggish, incapable style of play that they served up yesterday. They fielded in brilliant style and gave Marquard errorless Lose Again to Athletics, Who support from first to ninth inclusive.

Individually the Giants did just as well s they did collectively. Fletcher covered imself with glory by his splendid work in Philadelphia, July 29.-The Philadelphia the field and at the bat. He smashed out world's champions continued their climb two hits, scored a brace of runs and also rules necessary. Knight and Wolter both toward the top here to-day by winning the accepted six difficult fielding chances. He and everything that came his way he got. The two teams are now only four points Marquard did a great deal toward winning apart, so that Monday's game will be a his own game by making two hits and bringing Wolter home. Chase rapped the battle for first place in the American holding up his end in the fielding line in

The latter was the second inning after being hit on the running. Six Cardinals had the pleasure of getting as far as first base, and, with the exception of the one above mentioned that was as far as they could get. But to come back to the early wabbles of the Giants. Devore opened very auspicuously with a clean and sharp driven single. Josh suited the action to the thought and stole second just before Doyle filed out. Devore showed the first signs of weakness when he strayed too far from second base and was caught a mile off the bag. Snodgrass walked and got as far as third on Becker's single. for $10,000, but the present race for the National League pennant is such that several of the owners are willing to go to any lengths to strengthen their teams. The little mint which results each year from the championship series is at stake, and while O'Toole will not join the Pfrates until the close of the American Association season, his help at a critical point might be the one thing needed to capture another pennant for Pittsburg. If this turned out to be the case the new star in the pitching firmament would pay for himself in short

The buying of minor league baseball players is a gamble pure and simple, and a big gamble. It has been proved times without number, not only in baseball, but in thoroughbred racing, that the high priced player or the high priced horse is usually more or less of a disappointment. There are exceptions, of course, but luck plays such an important part that it is rather surprising that such a cool headed, calculating business man as Barney Dreyfuss should pay such a fancy price for a pitcher who practically is untried in major league company. He did not do it, however, with his eyes shut, and no doubt believes that his chances are more than even for getting value received.

In all probability the price paid for O'Toole will stand as a high water mark in baseball for years to come. Rube Marquard, after three lean seasons with the Giants, is now justifying the price of have paid $12,000 to Baltimore for "Lefty" season and has been worthless to his team this year. In the old days the Boston club NEW MILE SWIMMING MARK furnished a sensation by purchasing Mike Kelly from Chicago for $10,000. It also paid a like amount for John Clarkson, the famous pitcher. > George Chalmers, who pitched a one-hit game for the Phillies against St. Louis last week, is turning out to be almost at won eight games and lost only two this season, and gives promise of making s name for himself before the season is oven Chalmers was born and bred in this city, on the upper West Side, and his baseball education began on the back lots in that section. He pitched for a time for the Manhattan College team, and later was s member of the Englewood Field Club nine of the Amateur League. He finally was drafted by Detroit, but, without much of a trial, was sold to the Scranton club, of the State League. He did good work for Scranton in 1909 and last year, and last fall was purchased by Philadelphia. He is only twenty-three years old, and apper ently has a bright future before him.
